Suit For $100,000 Results From Raid Made at Waikapu

Action of Trespass in Case Instituted by Japanese; Search Without Warrant Grounds For Action

Action in the form of "trespass in the case" for damages in the sum of $100,000 has been brought by Attorney Eugene Murphy for T. Nakagawa against Prohibition Enforcement Officer "Ned" Crabbe and County Officers Joe Coelho, Huakini Enos and Thomas Clark as an outgrowth of the raids made by them in the Waikapu plantation camp on June 15, when Nakagawa and two other Japanese were arrested. They appeared in court the following morning, Friday, June 16 and their cases were continued one week, until this morning. There was a fourth arrest of a Chinese and in one instance there were three charges lodged and in the others two charges each of violations of the federal prohibition laws. It is asserted that the raids were made without the preliminary of a search warrant issuing.

Charges in Complaint
In the complaint which was filed in the circuit court late Tuesday afternoon Nakagawa alleges that on June 15, 1922, the defendants "entered into and upon his premises and assaulted and detained him with force of arms, clubs and revolver for more than two hours and until he had paid to them the sum of $100 to obtain his release" and their departure from his premises which "they had entered without warrant, authority or justification of the law."

The $100 mentioned in the complaint is the $100 cash bail which the officers say Nakagawa put up to insure his appearance in court next morning.

Under the provisions of the law a house used exclusively for dwelling purposes cannot be entered without a search warrant and to secure a search warrant there must be strong evidence of the law being violated within the premises. The contention of the plaintiff is that his home was such a dwelling house, and that by entering it without a search warrant the act of trespass was accomplished.

On the other hand it is the contention of federal authorities that the having on the premises of liquor for sale or the manufacturing of liquor in a home or about home premises in the one instance transform the nature of the "home" into a store and in the other into a distillery or brewery according to what is being made, that the selling or making of liquor puts the place without the protection of the law as used exclusively for dwelling purposes.

Crabbe States Position

Ned Crabbe went to the sheriff's office Wednesday morning and was served with the papers in the case. Speaking of the suit he said that in his actions as prohibition enforcement officer he has been governed at all times by the directions of the pamphlet on the law and its provisions and rulings on it furnished him by the department in which he is employed. He said he acted on such directions and instructions in the making of the raids at Waikapu and would stand up on them as his authority.

"If the contention of Nakagawa and his attorney are correct," Crabbe continued, "such difficulties will be added to the work as to make it practically impossible to enforce the 18th amendment. Our contention is that where liquor is sold at a house the place is no longer used exclusively for dwelling purposes and loses its character as a home, is no longer exempted from investigation by the search and seizure law."

Crabbe said that developments of today, if the cases went to trial as set, would vindicate his action and those of the other officers.

Admittedly on the decision that will be made in the suit just brought will depend greatly the success or failure of efforts made to enforce the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

This morning the cases of the three Japanese taken in the raids went over for a week in the magistrate's court. County Attorney Bevins has written to United States Attorney Huber asking if it will be satisfactory if the cases be tried in the federal court.

Labor Representative Is Expected on Maui

Rudolph Scharrenberg, representative of the American Federation of Labor and regarded as personal representative of Samuel Gompers, the president of that organization, is expected to be on Maui the first three days of next week.

The visitor is in the Islands to study labor conditions and is being afforded all possible opportunities so to do. It is expected that he will be accompanied here by Col. D. S. Bowman, head of the industrial welfare service of the U. S. P. A.

It is expected he will visit all the plantations and perhaps the pineapple districts of West, Central and East Maui.

More Attractions Added Make Happy

Executive Committee Meets And Goes Over Plans; Every Department Reports Its Preparedness

Make Happy plans were gone carefully at a meeting of the Executive Committee in Forester's Hall Wednesday evening and the heads of the various sub-committees rendered their reports on progress and the readiness of their various departments. It was a snappy meeting and gives promise of a carnival that will be pep and go from start to finish.

Readiness is Shown
Horse racing has for forty years been considered a Fourth of July feature on Maui and this year will prove no exception, judging from the interest that is being displayed though entries do not close until Sunday so it was impossible to make a definite final report.

Every Island of the group is sending its best Japanese wrestlers to "Make Happy". In addition to the advice from Kaula that three wrestlers would represent the Garden Island, letters have come from Honolulu and Hilo giving the names of the Oahu and Big Island competitors.

Baseball will have a program that will give the fans all the sport that can be asked. Plans of that committee have already been outlined. There will be six games of ball, one of the few changes in the program being the elimination of the proposed Monday morning game. There will be two morning games and four in the afternoon, three of the afternoon games following directly after the races.

Sweet Singers Coming
Reports from Court Camoes said that in their vaudeville program there will be solos by Mae June Almos, Manuel Almos and John Noble. Courts Valley Isle and Lunailo have their programs prepared and assured the executive committee of two attractive evenings.

Eddie Fernandez is now busy at the Kahului grounds arranging the installation of his four shows, the big wheel and the merry go round besides two dozen other concessions. Some of the paraphernalia arrived Saturday but some was carried on to Maui on Tuesday. However, it was brought back and unloaded Wednesday evening. Fernandez says he is bringing the four best attractions of Honolulu's Merry Way. The sword swallower puts 22 inches of cold steel down his throat and the fire eater has every one wondering. The dancing show, he says is the best he has ever been able to gather together. All in all he has never brought so much nor better to any of the Maui County fairs.

Two luaus are to be served on the grounds on Tuesday, one from 11:30 to 1:30 and one from 4:30 to 6:30 was a new announcement made at the meeting.

Parade starts Tuesday
Other important announcements were that there will be a parade of Foresters Tuesday morning, leaving Forester's Hall at 8 and proceeding to the Fair Grounds and that the District Court Convention will be held on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Arrangements for the meeting and receiving of the throng of visitors were started when committees were named for the meeting of steamers at Lahaina and at Kahului.

Court Valley Island will have a meeting Wednesday evening at which instructions as to dress for the Tuesday parade and other subjects will be given to the members.

Sale of grand stand reservations will open with Eddie Tam at the Baldwin Bank, Kahului, Monday morning.

Former Chief Staff Of Britain Slain

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, June 22—Formerly chief of staff of Great Britain, lately elected to parliament from an Ulster constituency and appointed military adviser for the Ulster government was assassinated today just outside of his London home. Two men were arrested who gave their names as James O'Brien and James Connelly, a policeman, the latter also dying of his wounds.

The Central News Agency says that three bullets hit Wilson who died almost immediately. An eye witness says that one of the assassins attempted suicide inflicting a serious injury upon himself.

Lady Wilson was in the house at the time, heard the shots and rushed out. She found her husband lying on the pavement.

Sir Henry had been under police protection for several weeks, the authorities fearing that an attempt might be made upon his life.

Sir Austen Chamberlain announced the assassination to commons and moved adjournment as a mark of respect.

Hawaiian Wanted As Member Land Board by Maui

Republican Committee and Governor Not in Perfect Accord as to Member to be Named on Commission

Sam E. Kalama or Charles Wilcox for member of the land board is the recommendation to the Governor of the Maui Central Republican Committee. At a meeting yesterday it again refused to endorse Worth O. Aiken for commissioner.

Prior to the special election for delegate to congress the Governor expressed his desire to name Worth O. Aiken to the land board and asked L. M. Judd of the Territorial Committee to present the subject to the Maui delegation. At a meeting in Wailuku the Maui delegation declined to act favorably on the suggestion and a letter was sent to the Governor to that effect by the old county committee. The Governor again wrote to Mr. Judd and said there appeared to be a misapprehension and the objection voiced to the proposed appointment was not a good one. Mr. Judd again wrote to Maui and the action of the new County Committee yesterday was the answer.

In making the recommendation the committee added that it believed a Hawaiian should be a member of the board and it made its recommendations in that belief. Neither Kalama nor Wilcox is seeking the appointment but the committee named them never the less.

Other Recommendations

In the making of appointments, according to a resolution passed at the meeting, Maui favors the naming of Republicans where competent applicants of the dominant party are to be found, otherwise the reappointment of Democrats who have shown competency. It recommended the reappointment of Postmasters Costa and Silva as there were no Republicans applying for appointment. A Garcia's name had been mentioned for Wailuku but he withdrew it. He was recommended for chairman of the registration commission to succeed M. C. Ross whose term is expiring.

To fill vacancies on the election boards the following recommendations were made in the various precincts:

1. Mrs. D. W. K. White, member.
2. August Reimann, chairman and George Kauli, members.
3. Mrs. Lella Espinda, member.
4. Mr. Hanneberg, chairman; H. Saffery and D. P. Palena, members.
5. Mrs. Wm. Buck, member.
6. John N. Kahoi, member.
7. Kahl Kenolio, member.
8. David Kiakona, chairman and Nelson Kaloa, member.
9. Edward Wilson, chairman and Geo. Kauwekoolani, member.
10. D. Kapohakimohewa, member.
11. Alfred Furtado, chairman and Jos Tam Sing, member.
12. Mui Kekua, member.
13. Wm. T. Smythe, chairman; J. K. Puu and Eddie J. Smythe, members.
14. Horace Kekumu and J. K. Haeu, members.
15. J. Kaiwi, Sr., member.
16. D. K. Walehua, chairman.
17. Jonah Kaiwiera, chairman and G. W. Kauhane and J. B. Malulu, members.
18. Wm. B. Scott Hal, chairman, Jos. K. Kallieha and J. W. Kawaakos, members.
19. Joseph K. Kamauao and S. P. Kaai, members.
20. Rev. I. D. Iaea, chairman.
21. David Kaai, Jr., chairman.

Honolulu is Gay And Shriners Are In Full Control

Parades, Concerts, Sight Seeing Trips, Entertainments And Dances Staged; Capital City Brilliant

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, June 23—Sixty-five more Shriners arrived on the steamer Nile this morning, the "rear guard" of the party to which Honolulu has been turned over during their stay. Yesterday came the Matsonia with 150 Shriners among her passengers and at 10 o'clock the H. F. Alexander followed the Matson liner into port. The Matsonia arrivals immediately prepared for the huge parade that was to follow the arrival of the Alexander and escort "Sunny Jim," the Imperial Potentate and the Imperial Divan from dock to Capitol where they were welcomed by Governor Farrington.

Those arriving on the Matsonia were given a thrill that was not on the program when the engine of one of the army planes went wrong and forced the plane to descend into the ocean. None of the occupants was hurt and the plane was slightly damaged.

In the parade "Sunny Jim" rode one of three camels and Potentate Harry Denison of Aloha another. Two members of Islam rode Daisy, the elephant from the Honolulu zoo.

Stock exchange postponed its session until 11:30 to allow for the parade.

An afternoon of sight seeing and an evening of entertainment followed. Honolulu was never more brilliant or beautifully decorated and illuminated than last night.

This morning the public schools gave an exhibition in honor of the Shriners which was followed by trips to the Pali, Haleiwa, Schofield, the pineapple canneries and a luau is to be held at the new Hawaiian village this noon. In the afternoon there are more bandconcerts, more surfing, the hibiscus show at Iolani palace and this evening "A Night in Hawaii" will be repeated, visiting bands will give a concert in the Palace Grounds and there will be another dance at the Moana.

Wu Ting Fang Dead Shanghai Report

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

SHANGHAI, June 23—Reuter's News Agency reports that Wu Ting Fang is dead.

Wu Ting Fang was in his 81st year and for many years was known as one of the most picturesque figures in the diplomatic service at Washington during his two terms there. He was a native of Singapore, was educated in Canton, studied English in London and later enrolled as a student in Lincoln's Inn London. He later became chief director of the University of Tientsin.

His sympathies with the United States during the Boxer troubles led to his recall from Washington and only the intimation from this country that his beheading would be "offensive to the United States" saved his life. It was reported. He was disgraced but later reappointed to Washington.

Dr. Wu was instrumental in bringing many reforms to China and was an ardent advocate of the "open door." Although always an advocate of peace, the stormy times of 1917 when President Li Yuan Hung dismissed his premier for declaring war on Germany, Dr. Wu was named acting premier.

Russell Cases in Hilo Nolle Prossed

Senator Russell will not have to face trial for the charged irregularities in connection with the People's Bank and Trust Company of Hilo.

A special to the Honolulu Advertiser says the cases against him have been nolle prossed. The dispatch follows:

The cases against James W. Russell, former president of the People's bank, have been nolle prossed by Attorney General Harry Irwin.

The papers have been mailed from Honolulu and will be presented in the circuit court before Judge Homer L. Ross on Thursday. The ground for nolle prossed is that in the attorney-general's opinion the cases are too weak to handle.

It is stated that the facts will be put up to the grand jury again at a later date.

DENOUNCES UNCLE SAM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HAYANA, June 21—The newspaper La Nacion in its last issue bitterly attacked the United States and declared that "hatred of the American must be our new religion." It continues that the United States intervened in Cuba's revolt against Spain only to gain control of the Island and that Washington forced the recent reconstruction of the cabinet by President Zaya.

Dr. Mead, Expert on Land Settlement to Reach Maui July 1

Dr. Elwood Mead, California land settlement expert now in the Islands in the interests of the Hawaiian Homes Project will be on Maui July 1, 2 and 3. He will be afforded the opportunity to look over homestead- ing and agricultural and horticultural and live stock endeavors as conducted on this Island and near the close of his stay will meet the members of the Maui Chamber of Commerce and others who may be interested in the subject of the rehabilitation movement on Molokai.

Wednesday morning a letter from George P. Cooke was received by Secretary Gray of the Chamber of Commerce giving the dates of the proposed visit and less than two hours later Executive Secretary George P. Cooke himself put in an appearance. He had taken the Mauna Loa Tuesday, dropped off and Molokai and come across on the Mikahala. Plans for the visit of Dr. Mead and himself on the later mentioned were speedily arranged.

Other Plans Changed

Other engagements precluded an earlier coming to Maui by Dr. Mead and to make the trip at the fixed date he is foregoing a visit to Kaula. Though there are irrigated homesteads there, Mr. Cooke felt that Maui had more diversified farming to offer. He arrives two days after the dinner to Judge Case which it had been hoped he could attend.

Monday afternoon, July 3 there will be a special meeting of or informal reception by the Maui chamber of Commerce to meet Dr. Mead. During all the time of his visit activities on Maui will center chiefly about Kahului and the Foresters' Make Happy and it has been decided to hold the meeting for him in the Territorial Building for it is felt it would be impossible to get an attendance in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at that time that would be so satisfactory as can be secured at the Fair Grounds directly following the horse racing. The meeting will, therefore, be called for Monday afternoon, July 3, at that hour. Dr. Mead will take the Mauna Kea from Lahaina that night and will sail from Honolulu on Wednesday July 5.

In order to get Dr. Mead to Maui arrangements have been made to have the Mauna Loa held until after the luncheon of the Hawaiian Civic Club. He had purposed coming on the Kilauea to arrive on Saturday morning but found all space had been taken for the Foresters' convention and Make Happy.

Will Visit Farms

Mr. Cooke had written to Senator Harold W. Rice relative to arranging for Dr. Mead to see agriculture on Maui and also took the subject up with Manager H. B. Penhallow of Wailuku Sugar Company with whom he lunched on Wednesday.

Dr. Mead has been greatly interested in what he has seen of the land possibilities of the Islands. Mr. Cooke says and the commission is satisfied that it will receive suggestions and recommendations from the visitor which will be of great value to the development of the project proceeds.

Maui Publishing Co. Will Double Capital Stockholders Vote

Increase in the capital stock of the Maui Publishing Company, publisher of this paper, was voted at a meeting of the stockholders held Tuesday. Its capitalization will be doubled and the new finances will be used for the purchase of new machinery and equipment and for a addition to its building. Shares are to be offered to the stockholders at par and any unsubscribed will be offered to the public, if any there should be. The last sale of shares was at a premium of 10 percent.

Maui Publishing Company was organized in January 1905 and took over the newspaper, Maui News, and plant of G. B. Robertson the paper having been started in 1898. Its growth has been steady since and rapid during the past two years during which its capacity has been about doubled.

New plans of the company contemplate the purchase of a second newspaper press so that the old one can be used for job work of the larger sort, a new ruling plant and a new bindery equipment as well as for an addition which will be built back of its building to house the ruling and bindery departments. In part the increase are made in preparation for the publication of Maui News as a daily.

M. R. Pereira, manager of the company, will leave for the mainland within a few weeks to purchase the new machinery and equipment.

Crowds Laugh As Injured Workers Beg For Water

Brutal and Inhuman Treatment of Non-Union Men Reported From Coal Mine Town in Southern Illinois

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HERRIN, Ill., June 22—Twenty-six known dead bodies spread about in an area of 15 miles, some riddled with bullets, others beaten and clubbed to death and three hanging to trees are shown by the check up made at noon by the Associated Press. It is reported that union sympathizers stormed one of the mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company at daylight and in a camp captured more than a hundred non-union mine workers.

Some terrible scenes and sights have been witnessed by the Associated Press correspondent in going through the country where the disorder occurred. At one point he saw six men lying in the road, tied together. They were terribly mangled, wounded by bullets and bruised and had, it was said, been dragged to the spot they lay behind an automobile. A crowd of hundreds of men and women looked on as the suffering men lay their moaning and begging for water. The Associated Press correspondent rushed off to get them the drink they craved but returning with the water he was driven off at the point of guns. One woman, with a baby in her arms placed her foot on one of the wounded men and said: "I'll see you in hell before you get a drink of water."

Darkness last night forced a cessation for the time of the fighting that had gone on for several hours between strikers or strike sympathizers and non-union miners. Thousands of shots were exchanged. In the darkness that caused the cessation of firing, thousands of persons, many of them armed, rushed to the mine, the resulting confusion making it impossible to check up on reports until after daylight.

The disorders followed the receipt of a telegram from President Lewis of the United Mine Workers that the men working in the mine of the Southern Illinois Company were "common strike breakers." Union leaders deny having killed anybody.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

MARION, Ill., June 23—Sheriff Thaxton of Williamson County has telegraphed Governor Small that "the situation is well in hand, there is no danger of further outbreaks and no need of troops."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

CINCINNATI, O., June 23—President Lewis of the United Mine Workers declared this morning that the "United Mine Workers is not in any degree responsible for the unfortunate occurrences at Herrin." He charged that "sinister influences are working among the miners" to incite a spirit of violence and that the Coal Company has in its employ thousands of detectives at work among the strikers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 23—Director Medill of the state department of mines gave his opinion that it would "be a bad thing" to send troops to Herrin at this time.

WAUKEGAN, June 23—Governor Small has received a telegram from Col. S. N. Hunter, representing the adjutant general at Herrin, placing the blame for the riot and massacre on the shoulders of county officials. The message said that such officials at no time in the past week were able to handle the situation and should have requested troops to assist them in preserving order.

WASHINGTON, June 23—Secretary of Labor Davis, after a conference with President Harding, declared that those responsible for the Herrin disorders shall be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

French Court Convicts Poetess of Murder

PARIS, June 22—(Associated Press)—Marie Bessarabo, poetess and playwright, was convicted of the murder of her husband Georges whose body was found in a trunk at Nancy two years ago. The court decided because of the extenuating circumstances surrounding the case to sentence her to 20 years imprisonment. Her daughter was acquitted of complicity in the case.

The prosecution allowed the motive of the murder was Madame Bessarabo's effort to obtain a commission of 600,000 francs due her husband from oil concessions in Mexico where the couple lived prior to 1914. Her first husband, Paul Jacques, was a suicide in Paris under mysterious circumstances in 1914.
